

LANGER EQUESTRIAN GROUP, INC.

Management, Production & Consulting

Consulting Division

Langer Equestrian Group Consulting has been involved in equestrian consulting projects ranging from facility design and evaluation, program analysis and development, to equestrian event design and production. LEG's principal's, Larry and Marnye Langer, build a team of talented and experienced associates who meet the particular needs of each consulting project. As a result, LEG Consulting brings a wide complement of skills to any equestrian related project.

We are experienced in both private and public use facilities. LEG Consulting has participated in the development of facilities from ideas on cocktail napkins, to working with designers, architects, engineers and management of large, comprehensive, multi-use facilities. In addition, we analyze and evaluate existing facilities and operations to suggest additions, modifications or improvements in order to better meet their needs and functions.

LEG Consulting contributes to the success of a project through analyzing and developing sound programs related to a facility or an equestrian activity. Our analysis of facilities, programs, and activities is enhanced by our strong financial background. We have assisted groups with developing financial models, educational programs, lesson and training programs, public use activities, in addition to addressing community issues and appropriate uses of a facility. Because of our experience in both private industry and the public sector, we can meet and address the needs of most situations when a consultant is required.
